THE JAPANESE ARE PRESSING FORWARD

Series of Skirmishes on the Southern Front of General Kuropatkin's Army---Main Attack Probable Within a Week.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 5.—5:15 a. m.—Official advices from the far east given out here describe a series of skirmishes on the southern front of General Kuropatkin's army, the only importance of which now is the fact that the Japanese are showing a disposition to press forward and feel out the Russian position. General Mishchenko's Cossacks in every case drove back the opposing forces.

The activity of the Japanese outposts is doubtless intended to screen the movements of their armies and therefore may be regarded as preliminary skirmishes of final preparations for what appears which probably will begin within a week.

Kuropatkin's Report.

A special messenger has brought to the emperor General Kuropatkin's report of the battle of the Liao-yang. The messenger, who submitted to an interview, declares that the main army is concentrated at Tie pass and it is not likely General Kuropatkin will make a determined stand at Mukden. General Sippenberg, recently appointed to the command of the Second Manchurian army, will be received by Emperor Nicholas at Peterhof in the morning.

It is understood that the third division of the guards, stationed at Warsaw, is under orders to go to the front. This, with the second division of the guards and the rifle brigade of the guards, stationed in and around St. Petersburg, will make altogether [illegible] who have been ordered to the far east.

Rumored Fall of Fort Arthur.

There were recurrent rumors last night of the fall of Fort Arthur, but they have not the slightest foundation.

The war office has received the following dispatch from General Sakharoff dated October 3:

"At dawn of October 1 a squadron of Japanese cavalry twice attempted to break through the line of advance posts of Cossacks of the guard in the district between Khunkhesandia and Pengtaipu. Some of the attempts were successful.

"Toward noon the same day the detachment of the Japanese advance guard, with two or three squadrons of cavalry, renewed the offensive [illegible] against a regiment of Cossacks. The firing lasted until nightfall. General Mishchenko sent reinforcements to the aid of the Cossacks and forced eventually the enemy from the [illegible] the whole line retreating toward Sin-mi-kiakiey, pursued by our cavalry.

"Captain Tolstenkine, commander of a sotnia, ambushed one of the retreating parties at Kuanchiatsy. One Japanese officer was killed.

"In the positions abandoned by the Japanese our Cossacks found a number of cartridges and medical stores, and also a few dead horses. We lost two officers and two Cossacks wounded.

Another Movement Checked.

"The same day a Japanese force of one battalion and a half and a squadron of cavalry attempted to threaten our outposts between the Han river and the railway.

"Toward evening this movement was checked with the help of another company which reinforced the outposts. One Cossack was killed and one wounded.

"On the Russian right extended line Japanese patrols in the vicinity of Taitzehan on the right bank of the Hun river, losing three Japanese prisoners.

"Another Russian patrol sent in an easterly direction discovered Tamanbash pass occupied by 200 Chinese bandits, commanded by Japanese officers. One Cossack was killed."

MRS. C. C. BRADFORD
President Colorado Federation of Women's Clubs.

STATE FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

The Tenth Annual Convention Is in Session at Fort Collins---Election of Officers Will Be Spirited.

Fort Collins, Oct. 4.—The tenth annual convention of the Colorado Federation of Women's clubs began here today. Several hundred delegates and visitors from all over the state are present.

The convention was called to order by Mrs. Bradford, president of the federation, in the auditorium of the Agricultural college. Miss M. Hartley extended a welcome to the delegates on behalf of the Fort Collins club women and the mayor did the same in behalf of the city.

President Alice Bradford responded on behalf of the delegates. The balance of the morning session was consumed by reading reports of the various officers.

This afternoon President Bradford delivered her annual report. It showed the federation to be in a flourishing condition. The various district presidents also submitted their reports on work accomplished during the past year.

Tonight delegates attended a reception at the home of Mrs. B. F. Hottel.

The election of officers which will occur on Thursday promises to be unusually spirited and there are several candidates for each place of honor. The greatest interest centers in the presidency. For this position there are already five candidates in the field as follows:

Mrs. Henry Churchill of Greeley, first vice president of the state federation, and Mrs. A. M. Hawley of Fort Collins, second vice president; Mrs. Cordelia Greene of Las Animas, Mrs. Evans Wadsworth of Grand Junction and Mrs. Lee L. Hargis of Longmont.

Mrs. James D. Whitmore who was a prominent candidate is not present and has dropped out of the race.

WATCHING FEDERATION STORE

Teller County Sheriff's Office Learns That 18 Rifles and Shotguns Have Been Taken There.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Oct. 4.—A sharp lookout is being kept on the Federation store and its employes by the sheriff's office as it was learned today that 18 rifles and rifles were carried into the store last night by the men who have been very active in operations of the Interstate Mercantile company.

The object of turning the store into an arsenal can only be surmised, as the leaders deny that there is any such army of arms there, yet the sheriff's office is satisfied that the guns were taken there and does not approve of any such preparation.

It is believed to be associated with this movement as upon his arrest yesterday he stated that he had returned for the purpose of accepting a position with the Federation store management. Mr. Hooker has to serve out the sentence of 30 days which is hanging over his head, but it is the opinion of the officers that the Western Federation of Miners will not permit him to serve out the sentence but will have his fine paid which amounts to $54.

It is feared that these preparations are for defiance of the decision of the state supreme court in the matter of the miners' property, the right of the miners peaceably refuse to run any sale of holding the criminal element again get the upper hand in the district.

EIGHT MEN WENT DOWN WITH BRIDGE IN OKLAHOMA

Oklahoma City, Oct. 4.—Only meager has been heard from and seven are still missing, of a party of eight men who went down with the wagon bridge between Lexington and Purcell last night at 9 o'clock after battling with the swift rush of waters for many hours in their vain attempt to prevent the bridge from going, the only connection between the two towns. Judge Hocker, who lives at Byers, near Lexington, is the man heard from, but he can tell nothing of the other men.

The names of five others known to have been on the bridge when it went down are:

[illegible] of the mill at Purcell.
Cliff Caley, a boy, Purcell.
[illegible] Purcell.
Carnell, near Lexington.
Will Taylor, a boy, Lexington.

As the telegraph lines and telephones in the south and southeastern portions of Oklahoma and the southeastern part of the Indian Territory in the flooded districts are down information is hard to get, but that principle is to the effect that the waters are receding. The Santa Fe depot at Purcell had four feet of water in it this morning but tonight it is said it is clear. Since last night the Enid and Anadarko bridge in Caddo county, the Sapulpa-Denison division bridge of the Frisco, at Francis, I. T., the Choctaw bridge at Calvin, I. T., have gone down. Santa Fe trains coming into this city from the north as far as Noble and some back. No mails have been had from the north and southwest for many hours and it is not known when any can be had from [illegible] stations.

The Rock Island today sent out a large force of men west to repair its tracks and clear away for the building of bridges. The extent of the damage done in the territory cannot be estimated, but it is colossal and it will be many days before trains are running anything like normal.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Oct. 4.—President Jesse H. Waters of the Denver & South-western railroad, whose headquarters are in this city, has received official notice of the [illegible] sale of the property which took place in New York at 10 o'clock today. The company's holdings were purchased by the holders of a bond mortgage on the stock of the company, who are here and their names are known. The name is practically the same only. However, it is understood [illegible] will now be called the Cripple Creek Central. No change in operation or [illegible] will result from the sale and the line south as a railroad will be operated under the management.

College Faculty and Students Engage in Warm Talk About Athletics---Some Stirring Speeches.

Enthusiasm ran high at the athletic meeting of the college yesterday noon.

A meeting of the college and academy was called immediately after chapel exercises and it was attended by the entire student body. In rousing speeches the situation was explained to them. The boys of the school were urged to get out and try for the teams, the entire student body was asked to support its team in every way and the team was urged to get into the game with greater determination and spirit. If these things were done, the Tigers would be a winning bunch this year.

The meeting was presided over by Manager Willis K. Hunter. President Slocum was further called upon for a speech and he responded with a plea for more discipline on the field and throughout the college. Professor Calori in a witty speech urged every student of the school to take an interest in the athletics and in the football team.

Hildreth Frost, an alumnus and former star Tiger who is now assisting to coach the team, in a fiery speech in which he scored the college for its seeming lack of spirit, brought the enthusiasm to its highest pitch. He was followed by Captain Rollin Lennox with a few stirring remarks. Principal Richards, of the High school, was the last speaker. He pointed out the practical results that come from athletics, "not only to individuals, but to nations as well."

"The material in the school is good enough," he said. "In fact, I have seen winning teams made from material inferior to yours on the athletics of the middle west. You have a coach that knows football as well as any man in Colorado and it is a question of organization, of effort and determination. The High school team is with a young will come from the students.

Perkins hall resounded with the lusty college cheers that came from the students as the meeting broke up.

SEVENTY MEN ON GRIDIRON

Lively Time on Washburn Field These Days.

KNIGHTS OF THE PIGSKIN

THIRTY TEAMS WERE OUT FOR PRACTICE LAST NIGHT—SOME GOOD SCRIMMAGING DONE.

Washburn field presents a lively scene every afternoon.

With between 25 and 30 men out in football suits every night, by far the largest number of students on any local field for practice assembled on any local field for practice since football in its present form was introduced, a good deal of football under three coaches.

Those three coaches are the Colorado college coaches from the Colorado academy, the High school and the Cutler academy football teams. Last night there were 25 Tigers, 10 Terrors and 10 Cubs in football suits on the field. Captains Bunnell and Wood are handling the Tigers, Principal Richards and Fletcher Cubbon the local high school teams, and Coach Metcalf leads the academy boys.

A number of new men have been reporting to all three squads this week and several teams seem practically assured for second team positions on both high school and college, while the academy, which started late, while the academy, which started late, while the first week with less than a full team, has nearly the requisite 11 men.

The high school and academy battled on against each other last night for the first time for practice in both offensive and defensive play for each team. Considering the amount of inexperienced material each team had, both looked to good advantage.

The two college teams were out through some steady formation work followed by a hard scrimmage. There were several men from the 1st. team on and a few are still unable to report for practice regularly.

The Tigers play Denver university on Washburn field the same time Colorado college is at the school Saturday afternoon. The team from the capital city is reported to have a strong aggregation, with prospects of a hard game. It defeated the Colored Heart college in Denver last Saturday by the score of 17 to 0. The game with the college this week will be for practice and will not count for the championship.

DENOUNCES A WORLD POLICY

SENATOR PAYNE, OF MARYLAND CRITICISES ROOSEVELT FOR MAKING AMERICA A FACTOR IN CIVILIZATION.

Baltimore, Oct. 4.—Senator Culberson of Texas and Senator Elect Payne of Maryland addressed a crowded Democratic rally tonight. Senator Culberson arraigned the administration for errors of commission and omission that he declared have been made during the past few years, touched upon the race question and referred to Admiral Schley "who has been ignored by the Republican leaders," Mr. Rayner said:

"The candidates in their training and character signify the doctrines for which they stand. The candidate of the Republican party occupies an extreme and intense position upon the questions of the hour. He believes the time has arrived when this government should become one of the great factors in settling the destinies of mankind; that we should not neglect any legitimate opportunity to add to our possessions and augment the territory over which we should rule; that we should be upon a military footing commensurate with its task; insists that we are ordered that our navy should patrol the waters of the entire world to enforce by any contingency that in the slightest degree may affect our progress or involve our credit or our honor."

Touching the race question, Mr. Rayner said:

"I have no feeling of enmity against the colored race; they have my fullest sympathy. I would educate them, educate them and not deny them a single attribute accorded to them by the constitution but the time will never come when you can assimilate and amalgamate [illegible] All attempts of the president in this direction is the dream of a fanatic and a visionary that will never be realized."

Mr. Rayner took up the Schley controversy. The treatment of the case of Admiral Schley, he said, is without a parallel in our history.

"The president," he continued, "promised to give the admiral a fair hearing. He broke his promise and was guilty of duplicity. It would dignify the proceedings that the president conducted to call it a star chamber process."

TO ELECTRIFY THE COG ROAD

President Sells Goes East to Investigate.

IS PERFECTING PLANS

OWNERS OF PIKE'S PEAK RAILWAY STILL WORKING ON IDEA ADVANCED SEVERAL MONTHS AGO TO ELECTRIFY LINE.

C. W. Sells, president and general manager of the Pike's Peak Cog road, left for the east last night for the purpose of arranging for big improvements in the famous mountain road in the Cog-Rail system.

Several months ago the Gazette outlined the proposition of the Cog road management to electrify the line.

Upon Mr. Sells's return it is possible that a contract will be awarded for the construction of an electric plant for the purpose of making electric light. While in the east he will investigate the electric cars being used on the New York Central road and if the system there is a success he will probably immediately make plans for installing it on his system.

Davis Jones, one of the machinists for the Cog road, has made a motor car for use on the Cog line and it was experimented with to some success not long ago. There were defects in the car, however, and these discovered with a really successful experiment.

The idea as planned is to have a gasoline engine on each car to furnish the power to propel the motor. This will obviate the necessity for wires and a general supply station and will remove the possibility of interference with the system by electric storms.

To install this system in place of the steam power system now used will cost about a quarter of a million dollars. Other improvements planned will increase the amount to be spent on the Cog road during the next nine months.

"If the system on the New York Central works all right as will put it in on our road," said Mr. Sells just before he left last night.

CONGRESS AND SUCCESS CLUB

TWO ORGANIZATIONS WILL CONSOLIDATE---CONGRESS BEGAN SEASON'S WORK WITH DEBATE LAST NIGHT.

The first meeting of the Young Men's congress was held at the Y. M. C. A. last night with Vice President Nash in the chair, in the absence of President D. D. Rust. Luke Russell was made temporary chairman in order to allow the vice president a chance to debate.

The question was: Resolved, That the Benefits Derived from World's Fairs and Expositions Do Not Justify the Expense" which was later modified to read "that congress should withhold the support of the government from World's fairs and expositions, as the expense does not justify the result." It was an open house debate, and will be continued at the meeting of the organization to be held next Monday evening.

Attention is called to the fact that the meeting night has been changed from Tuesday to Monday evenings at 8 o'clock.

The next meeting will be held Monday night, at which time the Y. M. C. A. Success club will consolidate with the congress and officers for the new organization will be elected.

A feature of the evening's entertainment was the whistling solo by J. Francis, who rendered in a very pleasing and effective manner two excellent selections. Mr. Thaeler was accompanied on the piano by Miss Vetter.

He delivered an address on "The Place of the College in Christian Life" at the conference held three years ago at Portland, Oregon. This council convenes but once in three years.

There will be no formal head of the college during the absence of the president and dean, but they will be gone but a few days and an official head will probably not be needed during that time.

DREADFUL CABBIES CAUSED COUNTESS TO LOSE TEMPER

Her Ladyship Has a Terrible Time the Moment She Sets Foot in the Big City Up North---Her Many Trials.

If all the story were told, the trials and tribulations of the Countess Loughman since she left Manitou, would fill a book.

And she has gone only as far as Denver.

The big city of Sorgh got the countess into trouble the minute she put foot in it. That was eight days last.

No sooner had she stepped from her train and with much difficulty wended her way through the crowd on the station platform, than she was, to use her own language, "encountered."

"Encountered!"

"Right there in the shadow of the depot, they attacked me—three holdup gentmen," declared the countess to a reporter.

"Me, the Countess Loughman!"

"What did they do to me?"

They hustled me into a cab—I was forced to submit to their rough ways—then they drove me to a tavern—oh! that tavern, shall I ever forget it!"

Quarreled With Hotel Clerk.

The countess then marched into the Albany hotel with the pride of a conqueror, and leaning over the desk at the lobby, demanded the best room in the house for $3 per day. When informed that she would not have an elegant suite at that figure she became abusive, and Clerk Doty slanged her across the street to a lodging house where she could get what she wanted at the price that she set.

When she saw the stairs she would have to climb to reach the room she returned to the Albany and demanded that she get what she wanted. During the second argument in the hotel lobby a policeman appeared on the scene, and when he wished to escort her to the open air she objected, saying that the last time she went with one of the ilk she was forced to pass the night in a common jail.

The countess was finally put on a Seventeenth street car and went to the Colonial hotel.

"Take Me Back," She Cried.

After she had [illegible] the Albany hotel and found lodgment at the Colonial, the countess began her lively antics right away. She rang for the clerk and, while he was on the way, she sent a passing chambermaid hurrying down for the proprietor and the porter.

The apartments would do at all. They were too small, had not enough windows, as the three black traveling bags and the bundles of shawls she carried with her everywhere had to be removed to another apartment.

"Oh, this is horrible!" she cried out, when the exchange had been made. "This is worse than the other—take me back to it." And there was nothing to do but once more to locate the old lady in gilt.

It was then after 5 o'clock and the supper hour was past, so the garrulous and bitter-spoken countess had to be piloted to a restaurant. There she drove the hotel attendants away, but when she failed to return in a [illegible] time, they had to go seek her and found her lost and howling down Larimer street.

Lost on Larimer Street.

Cupids! she exclaimed when they overtook her. "Couldn't you leave me a moment's peace? But it was plain that she would never have found her way back without their help.

Yesterday morning she kept the hotel force busy, arranging her bath—which she found first too hot and then too cold—sending for mail, for morning papers and waiting for all manner of attentions.

Just before 4 o'clock, when she was ready for her breakfast and breakfast time was nearly up, she suddenly she declared that she wouldn't have breakfast just then, and went back to bed again.

Fifteen minutes later she was upbraiding breakfast and was quite furious when told that it would be necessary for her to go to a restaurant.

"That's it," she cried; "that's the way [illegible] you Americans, you heathenish impossible Americans!"

TO ESCAPE GLOOM OF FRIENDS FIREMAN LEWIS LEAVES HOME

W. S. Lewis, one of the firemen who was a victim of the disastrous acid fire in Denver, September 20, was in the city yesterday en route to New Mexico for his health.

Mr. Lewis stepped off here to visit an Assistant Chief McReynolds, with whom he is acquainted. He and Mrs. Lewis will continue on their way this morning.

Mr. Lewis was laid up in the hospital eight days after the fire and his lungs and bronchial tubes severely affected so that he cannot take a deep breath. He did not experience any ill effects from the acid fumes until the next day when he found a rash on the stomach and was afflicted with a congestion of the lungs. He had to be fed oxygen for several days, but appeared presently was not as badly affected as some of his comrades, although he spent eight days under treatment.

We knew there was acid there," he said last night, "but we did not know there was so much. We had been up against acid fires before. I don't think it was the nitric acid that caused us the trouble. I think it was the zinc and copper plates that were there. I think they gave off an arsenic fume that caused all the trouble."

Mr. Lewis says he is not a quitter in the hope of losing an opponent when he would in Denver. One of the reasons he is going away is because his Denver friends made life miserable for him by their gloomy forebodings. He expects to return to Denver and resume his place on the fire department.

Mr. Lewis says Assistant Chief Dunmore and Fireman Lyman are still at the hospital and are very low. Lyman, he says, has been kept on oxygen for the last five days and he fears he cannot recover, while Dunmore's chances he thinks are very slim.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1904.

SECRETARY SHAW IS SATISFIED.

SECRETARY SHAW has just returned to Washington after an extensive campaign tour covering nearly every section of the country from Maine to California. As a result of his observations and talks with leading Republicans throughout the country he is entirely satisfied with the outlook.

The secretary sees considerably more than enough electoral votes to put President Roosevelt once more in the White house. In doing that he is entirely fair to the other side and puts in the list of doubtful states all that may be reasonably classed as doubtful.

It is an Republican, he declares, upon the Pacific coast. In the Rocky Mountain country the three states of Montana, Idaho and Colorado may be classed as doubtful but with excellent prospects of pulling the Republican ticket through in all those states.

The figures as he puts them are as follows:

California	10	New Hampshire	4
Connecticut	7	New Jersey	10
Delaware	3	North Dakota	4
Illinois	27	Ohio	23
Indiana	15	Oregon	4
Iowa	13	Pennsylvania	34
Kansas	10	Rhode Island	4
Maine	6	South Dakota	4
Massachusetts	16	Vermont	4
Michigan	12	Washington	5
Minnesota	11	Wisconsin	13
Nebraska	8	Wyoming	3

This is 224 votes, or 15 more than a majority of the electoral college. And yet in this compilation the states of New York, West Virginia, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada and Utah, with a total of 63 votes, are omitted from the list. The solid south, with 181 votes, and Maryland, with eight, are conceded to the Democrats.

This is an absurd concession for the best informed political observer to make. West Virginia is safe for the Republicans. So far as Colorado and the other Rocky Mountain states are concerned it will be conceded by all unprejudiced observers that President Roosevelt is quite as likely to carry them as Judge Parker.

He therefore assures every stockman, within reason President Roosevelt and the Republican ticket will carry the country and will have electoral votes to spare.

ADAMS A GOOD ENOUGH POPULIST.

[illegible] IS NO DOUBT that a deal has been arranged [illegible] the managers of the Democratic party and leaders of the Populist organization, whereby the strength of the Populists is to be thrown to Alva Adams for governor.

[illegible] sides consideration is made for this trade. It is [illegible] a matter which is not likely to be disclosed. [illegible] of those "gentlemen's agreements" the details [illegible] are not for the general public.

It may, of course, be decided that it would be better [illegible] the sake of appearances to keep a semblance of a [illegible] ticket in the field until election, but it is [illegible] settled that Judge Owens as the candidate for [illegible] governor, instead of Owens is the [illegible] Populist of this state, and to be sole candidate [illegible] a man who can get the strength of the party, has [illegible] clearly indicated a bargain with the Democrats.

[illegible] a proposition that ought to set every voter [illegible] hard thinking in this campaign. In the [illegible] of vote for the latter or a heavy [illegible] every honest citizen. The bosses that [illegible] would buy are both guilty [illegible] of a ridiculous kind.

[illegible] remembered that it is all going [illegible] Alva Adams, the Democratic candidate for governor.

[illegible] and order and for [illegible] Alva Adams is good enough [illegible] him in this election. All [illegible] campaigners are giving [illegible] to the Western Federation in its attempt to [illegible] Colorado. Thousands of [illegible] and hence have left only the [illegible] Democratic party. Governor Mount [illegible] a word to say against Alva Adams. He is a good enough Federation man for them.

And now Frank [illegible] of Idaho Springs is [illegible] this state, in a window in order that Mr. Adams [illegible] may be helped. There is a short memory in any man who had it laid up for a year, day and [illegible] corruption ing hirds of the Western Federation of Miners, [illegible] but Alva Adams is good enough for them.

In the face of this the Democratic [illegible] have the [illegible] to try to organize [illegible] of Adams in this state. It is a [illegible]

[illegible] SHOULD BE IMPROVED.

[illegible] Denver Republican [illegible] Chamber of Commerce [illegible] to the proposition [illegible] the street from the Capitol [illegible] the city council [illegible] the improvement [illegible] Capitol avenue.

[illegible] the Republican that [illegible] Capitol avenue [illegible] the city, and [illegible] the property owners [illegible] the improvement [illegible] the city council [illegible] the property owners [illegible] what they are asking for, especially as it is being done at their own expense.

There is no street that needs improving more than this. Its great width makes it impossible to scrap it in repair except at great expense. Hence the proposed parking system will be at once handsome, substantial and will make a thoroughfare that will be a pride to property owners and a satisfaction to every citizen of the city.

Father Malone of Denver is one of the most uncompromising opponents of the present Socialistic trend in this state. He sees its peril and does not hesitate to strike boldly. At the ministers' meeting in Denver on Monday he earnestly urged Christian men and women everywhere to zealously guard their privileges and not yield an inch to the insidious appeals of discontent.

An apple crop that brings $125,000 such as has recently been sold from the Hagerman orchards in New Mexico, is enough to cause those Michigan and New York apple growers to open their eyes and say "Gosh."

Harmony among the Republicans of Delaware has at last been achieved. This insures the three electoral votes of that state for the Republican column. They are not many, to be sure, but they will help to make it unanimous.

Mrs. James Brown Potter is again making her debut in a new play and the photographs of her indicate that she is a woman somewhere between 14 and 40.

It seems that the story that a Russian warship was hovering about Shanghai is an error. Evidently the czar's fleet knows where they are safe.

A Republican orator declares "There is but one Tom Watson." One would almost suppose so to be enough.

HE WASN'T LOST.

A four-year-old boy was blubbering lustily along Kearney street yesterday. Some kind-hearted stranger had tried to soothe him with a stick of candy, and his face was besmeared with sticky tears and dirt.

"Well, what's the matter with you?" inquired the officer on the beat. "Are you lost?"

"Naw-aw, sir," the boy sobbed. "I've mislaid my papa."—Pittsburg Bulletin.

TOO MANY QUESTIONS.

The fallacy of asking too many questions is generally followed by much embarrassment.

I was stopping at a large hotel, and one day as I came out and took my hat from the hands of the hat-keeper I said to him:

"How do you know that is my hat?"

"I don't know it, suh," said the boy.

"Then why do you give it to me?" I insisted.

"Because," replied the boy, "you gave it to me!"—Lippincott's.

Albert, the young man of the family, was undeniably ill. The doctor was sent for. He pronounced it a case of jaundice, as indeed, the patient had suspected, from the patient's sallowish appearance.

"But how could the doctor tell, Bessie?" asked the caller.

"Easy enough," replied Bessie. "Anybody could tell it by [illegible] into the—the [illegible] of his eyes."—Youth's Companion.

Pointed Pleasantries

NO USE.

Wilbur F. Wakeman of the American Protective Tariff league, whose first voters propaganda has attracted the attention of political managers all over the country, sometimes runs across a snag.

The other day there was reported to him one of his circulars asking postmasters to furnish him with the names of the first voters in their districts. It came from a Maryland town, and penciled across the bottom of it were the words:

"No use. The young men down here are all Democrats and will vote for Parker."—N. Y. Times.

EASILY READ.

Hamlin Garland relates the following, which shows that sometimes a prophet doesn't get all the honor due him, even outside of his own country.

The author sat beside a schoolgirl on a train in western New York. Glancing at the book she was reading, he saw it was one of his own novels. Naturally he was delighted, and when an opportunity arose, said:

"I see your copy, Miss, but do you like that book?"

"Oh, yes sir. I like it very much indeed," she replied. "In fact, any particular reason why you should ask me, mister?"

"Well, I find it is a splendid book to read, because there are so many pages I can skip."

Then the novelist put on his thinking cap and gazed thoughtfully out of the window.

WORK RESUMED ON BLUE FLAG CLAIM

Company Intends to Make a Big Shipper of Its Raven Hill Property---Extensive Development Work Will Be Pushed.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Oct. 4.—The Blue Flag company, operating on Raven hill, have resumed operations on the Blue Flag claim, and will push development work as fast as possible. Tomorrow night the second shift will be put on, and within the next few days the force will be increased to 20 men. The shaft is now down 150 feet, and it is the intention to sink to the 250-foot point, where a station will be cut and a drift extended to the ore body that produced such rich ore in the old shaft. The main crosscut in the old shaft, which was abandoned at a depth of 200 feet, will be continued, so the ore body that produced such rich ore in the old shaft will be tapped at two points. Ore chutes will be put in at the end of this work and a drift will be run to the east. It has not been decided by the company as yet when the contract is finished whether another contract will be let for the resumption of sinking or whether the company will work on cross cuts and drifts from this depth.

The contractors, who will complete the work by Friday or Saturday of this week, will then directly go to work on the Nickel shaft of the Lower Mammoth, which was sunk some 200 feet, and another lift and considerable development work accomplished.

BALL STEPPING RICH ORE FROM THE W. F. H.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Oct. 4.—Returns have been received by Harrison Hill Sexton, operating under lease the W. F. H. property on Ironclad hill, which gave values of $18 to the ton.

The ore was broken in the 2d cross cut from the big 3-foot vein. The lessee who have nine months yet to run before their lease expires expect to send out between 500 and 600 tons of ore in that time.

TRILBY DRIFT OPENED IN THE TRAIL TUNNEL

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Oct. 4.—Reiss and associates, operating under lease the north end of the Trail property, have opened up 4 1-2 feet of ore that is good for $35 to the ton. The lessees are of the opinion that they have encountered the extension of the Trilby drift, which has produced considerable ore above. Operations are being conducted through what is known as the Trail tunnel.

RUSSELL AND SHARP MAKING GREAT SUCCESS

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Oct. 4.—Russell and Sharp, operating under lease the Lonsdale claim of the El Paso Consolidated are sending out regular daily shipments of a carload of $10 to $20-dollar ore, mink from their lease on the West side C. C. Cons. properties, better than a carload per day is being sent out. These three lessees will no doubt make the lease a small fortune.

GOOD ORE BODY IN DAMON PROPERTY

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Oct. 4.—Fox and associates, operating under lease the main workings of the Damon property, have encountered what is known as the East vein in the first and second levels. The face of ore measures from 6 to 8 feet in width and runs from $20 to $30 to the ton. A regular production is being made by the lessees.

MINE SHIPMENTS.

GOLD COIN COMPANY IS STOPING IN FIFTEENTH LEVEL

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Oct. 4.—The Gold Coin Mining company is stoping in the fifteenth level of the Gold Coin property, which is one of the deepest mines in the district. The ore is said to be of very high grade.

The Gold Coin property is operated down to the 20th level by leases, many of whom are sending out regular shipments of a good grade of ore. The returns from the last shipment of the Stewart lease, operating between the fifth and sixth levels, gave values of over $1,000 to the ton. While a number of the lessees are receiving a very good grade of ore, this was probably the richest grade of ore shipped from the mine for some time.

The Gold Coin lessees have opened up a number of veins and are sacking good rock from their stopes of ground given the company very bright prospects of encountering the extension of some of the ore chutes in some of the lower levels which they are driving.

GOOD ORE BODY OPENED IN THE WHISPER DRIFT

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Oct. 4.—Logue Longdon and associates operating under lease the Whisper shaft of the Gold Sovereign company have opened up a body of ore which promises a great future.

The lessees who have been operating on the 400-foot level of this property have encountered a body of ore from 4 to 5 feet in width and running from $20 to $30 to the ton. Daily shipments of the ore are being made, besides considerable development work.

The prospects and appearances look considerably like 10 tons per day, and if the present prospects continue the lessees will have a small fortune.

LEASES ON THE BELLE ARE FAVORITES FOR ORE

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Oct. 4.—Wyatt and associates who recently secured a lease on the north end of the Burns of the Acme company, have commenced sinking in two different directions on 12 foot veins and are now putting down with the expectation of encountering the ore bodies which have been opened above. The lessees are now busily installing a plant of machinery and will have the plant in working order and expect within a short time to install a large compressor in order to facilitate their workings.

DEVELOPING PROPERTIES ON ROSE BUD HILL

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Oct. 4.—The lessees operating on the Rose Bud property are now busily engaged in sinking and drifting on the veins which have been opened up on the property. The lessees have purchased a new plant of machinery and are now in the midst of installing it, with the intention of [illegible] operations at an early date.

Shareholders, who have been working on the Saturday claim a short distance will continue the work of sinking.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

Notice is hereby given that at the general election to be held on the eighth day of November, A. D. 1904, there will be submitted to the qualified electors of the state of Colorado the question of amending the constitution of said state.

The authority for submitting such question is found in senate bill No. 5, which is in words and figures following, to-wit:

(S. B. No. 5, by Senator Taylor.)

AN ACT

TO SUBMIT TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF THE STATE OF COLORADO AMENDMENTS TO SECTIONS FIVE (5), SEVEN (7), AND EIGHT (8) OF ARTICLE SIX (VI) OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF COLORADO, CONCERNING THE SUPREME COURT.

Be it Enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

Section 1. There shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the state of Colorado, at the next general election for members of the general assembly, the following amendments to the constitution of the state of Colorado, which, when ratified by a majority of those voting thereon, shall be valid as a part of the constitution, [illegible] to-wit: Section five (5) of article six (VI) of the constitution of the state of Colorado shall be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 5. The supreme court shall consist of seven judges, who may sit en banc or in divisions, as may be prescribed by law. Four of the judges shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of four judges shall be necessary to the decision of cases. The people reserve to themselves power to order, at any general election, that any case pending in the supreme court, or which has been decided by the court not more than one year prior to the election, shall be certified to the court of appeals for decision, and to confer upon the court of appeals power to review and decide any case so certified. The general assembly shall provide by law for the speedy publication of all opinions of the supreme court and court of appeals authorized to be published, and for the distribution of the reports and digests thereof. Until otherwise provided by law, each judge of the supreme court shall receive a salary of [illegible] per annum, payable monthly.

Section 7. The state shall be divided into [illegible] districts, in each of which shall be elected one judge of the district court, who shall reside therein, and after the first election shall hold his office for the term of six years. Until otherwise provided by law, the state shall constitute one judicial district for the supreme court, and the judges thereof shall be elected by the electors of the state at large. The judges of the supreme court in office when this act takes effect shall continue in office until the expiration of the terms for which they were elected, and their successors shall be elected at the general election next preceding the expiration of said terms. The judges of the supreme court shall, immediately after their election and qualification, cause the state to be divided into districts as herein provided, and shall assign one of their number to each district, and may thereafter change such assignments from time to time. They shall also assign the judges of the district court to the several districts, and may change such assignments from time to time. The judges of the supreme court shall hold the district court in the several districts to which they are assigned, and perform such other judicial duties as may be required by law. The judges of the district court shall receive a salary of [illegible] per annum, payable monthly.

Section 8. The judges of the supreme court, except as herein provided, shall be elected by the electors of the state at large.

Sec. 2. Section seven (7) of said article six (VI) of the constitution of the state of Colorado shall be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 7. The terms of office of the judges of the supreme court, hereafter elected, except as in this article otherwise provided, shall be ten years.

Sec. 3. Section eight (8) of said article six (VI) of the constitution of the state of Colorado shall be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 8. No successor of the judge of the court of appeals whose term expires in April, 1905, shall be appointed.

On the first Wednesday of April, 1905, the court of appeals shall cease to exist, and the judges of said court whose regular terms shall not then have expired shall become judges of the supreme court. All causes pending before the court of appeals shall then stand transferred to and be pending in the supreme court, and no term of abjournment given any of said causes shall be effected by said transfer.

The term of office of that judge of the supreme court whose term expires at the second Tuesday in January, 1907, shall expire on the second Tuesday in January, 1907, and the term of office of the judge of the supreme court whose term expires on the second Tuesday in January, 1909, shall expire on the second Tuesday in January, 1909, and the term of office of the judge of the supreme court, whose term expires on the second Tuesday in January, 1911, shall expire on the second Tuesday in January, 1911, and the term of office of the judge of the supreme court whose term would expire in April, 1905, shall expire on the second Tuesday in January, 1907, and the term of office of the judge of the supreme court, whose term expires on the second Tuesday in January, 1909, shall so expire. At the general election in the year 1906 and every tenth year thereafter, there shall be elected two judges of the supreme court.

At the general election in the year 1908, there shall be elected three judges of the supreme court, one for the term of six years, and two for the term of ten years.

At the general election in the year 1912 and every tenth year thereafter, there shall be elected one judge of the supreme court.

At the general election in the year 1910 and every tenth year thereafter, there shall be elected two judges of the supreme court.

Provided that if said court of appeals shall at the time of going into effect of this amendment, by reversal of any cases pending, the division shall terminate and by and with the advice and consent of the senate appoint the judges of the supreme court who shall form a court of [illegible] and [illegible] and shall continue in office until the expiration of the terms for which they were [illegible] and expire at the second Tuesday of January, 1907.

Provided also, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the general assembly from changing the time of electing judges of the supreme court and from extending or abridging their terms of office as provided in Art. VI, section 13 of the constitution of this state.

The judge having the shortest time to serve, not including the office by appointment or election to fill vacancy, shall be the chief justice.

Of the two judges whose terms of office expire on the same day, the younger in point of the two judges shall be the chief justice during the last year of his term of office and the elder of the two judges shall be chief justice during the last year of his term of office.

The chief justice shall preside at all sessions of the court at which he is present, and in case of his absence, then the judge present who has been longest on the bench shall preside.

[illegible] shall have power to make the necessary [illegible] and [illegible] to review the judgments and proceedings of inferior courts by such process and in such manner as may be provided by law pursuant to the act establishing the court of appeals.
